Mitch Helwig is a cop on the edge, “a man who’s gone through the valley of the shadow and hasn’t quite made it out the other side” (Toronto Globe & Mail). Vengeance and heroism, the subtleties of family woven into the metaphysics of life and death, all come together here in a page-turner, “a near-future tech-noir thriller” (SF Site) that moves at breakneck speed.

"A chilling picture of Toronto in the not too distant future."—The Toronto Star

"He writes with a real and rare sympathy for his characters."—The Atlanta Constitution

"A deft storyteller."—St. Louis Post-Dispatch

"A wonderfully evocative writer."— The Ottawa Citizen

"Solid entertainment, with more than a bit of heart."—The Edmonton Journal
